Written by Rylan Davis &
Lori Fick

Based on "Industrial Island (1989)" from Joe Fick, Brad Birkedahl and Kim Fick

Intro. Chapter 1: "Prison Break". We see the mayor of the city, Mayor Ford Pummel, pouring himself some Cocktail into a glass. Walks over to Table, talking and then sitting down.

Mayor Ford

As Mayor of this city, I must say myself, I have done a great job of helping the community, and its city from being a financial and literal dump, but now, it's an amazing place to live in for all, ain't I right or not, George?

George is sitting across the table from The Mayor, and his assistant.

George

Yes, sir.

Mayor Ford

Anyways, I also have information on wanted and now imprisoned former Mayor, Walter Nelson

Walter Nelson, used to be Mayor of the island, but after messing the city up, was finally charged with crimes against the island's residents, and community.

Mayor Ford

I have the papers listing all of his crimes that were given to me by The Warden. [PULLS OUT PAPERS]

After his speech was accepted by the public, he caused mayhem,
destruction, and carnage all over the city, even going as far as to spread a toxic gas all over the city from the local power plant, and many people died from it, and what the locals say, he burned every tree to the crisp. And soon, He was finally put into the county jail and sentenced to life in prison. So now Industrial Island is safe at last!

George

Thank god for that.

Mayor Ford

Dang right, George. And Frank?

Frank, the judge of the supreme court of the island stands by the doorway.

Mayor Ford

Good job, we finally did it, and got Walt taken to prison.

Judge Frank nods in approval.

Mayor Ford

Anyways, I've got to read the papers of everyone wanting to move in. After the president himself deeming this place "the safest island in America", it was said so himself.

Frank

Of course, I will be seeing you soon, Mayor.

Frank sits up, and both of them shake hands, and leave the room.

Mayor Ford

Indeed...

Frank has left the room,
and the screen turns
black. The scene returns, George isn't in the room, and The Mayor hears his receptionist calling on the intercom.

Connie on intercom

Mr. Ford?

Mayor Ford

Yes, Connie?

Connie

Doug Johnson is on the phone, and needs to speak to you.

Mayor Ford

Put him on the phone, thanks Connie.

Ford gets on the phone with Doug.

Mayor Ford

Industrial Island's favorite Warden, Doug Johnson, how's things down at the prison, buddy?

Ford's expression goes from happy to scared, when he hears the news of Walter Nelson escaping from prison.

Mayor Ford

Walter Nelson escaped from the prison?! How come no one told me?

Ford listens to the phone and hears Doug explain how he escaped and why he didn't answer soon enough.

Mayor Ford

Ok, I'll send my men to go get him.

Ford hangs up and calls the commissioner, Cheryle Miller.

Mayor Ford on telephone with the commissioner

Commissioner Miller, hi.
Uh, I was wondering if I could have the prison file for Walter Nelson? Yeah, Uh huh, yep... Mhm... He did escape... don't worry... ok, sure.

Ford hangs up, and sits down, worried. The scene then transitions to Ford reading the files on Walter. Until a crash is heard from the window, and then Ford is knocked out with a tranq dart, and falls back into his chair,

and the screen turns
black... Until he wakes up, and finds out that he's tied up, and sees Walter Nelson smoking a cigarette and chugging a bottle of cocktail and sits it down and takes his gun and sways it around...

Mayor Ford

Walter Nelson!

Walter Nelson

In the flesh... [LAUGHS]

Mayor Ford

What's going on... TELL ME
WHAT THE [BLEEP] IS GOING ON, WALT?!

Walter walks around Ford while Ford is tied up in his chair, and Walter looks at him with a mysterious grimacing grin.

Walter Nelson

Things have changed since I was last here, and boy, are they gonna get even weirder... [CHUCKLES]

Mayor Ford

Walter... You won't win, if the police got you last time, then I swear by all the fires of the black pits of Hell, they can bring you back to the prison again...

Walter

Do you really think so?
Well, I might as well settle this, once... and... for...

Ford gets worried.

Walter Nelson

All...

Walter pulls out Ford's gun and points it directly at him, before pulling the trigger right at his chest, and falling back into his chair, and Walter unties the chair holding Ford upright and causing Ford to fall onto the floor. And Walter, Relieved of what he just did, makes the biggest grin in the world, and shouts out,

Walter Nelson

INDUSTRIAL ISLAND... IS MINE!

Walter cackles while a storm outside crackles, until the scene ends.

END OF CHAPTER 1

Chapter 2: "New Mayor, New Town". We see Walter Nelson at the desk that Mayor Ford used to sit at, all the while chugging a whole bottle of cocktail, and starts smoking a cigarette. And all of this is interrupted by Walter's assistant, Mickey.

Mickey

BOSS, BOSS!

Walter turns over with a grin.

Mickey

I did what you told me to do, you know Derrick and Johnny, those two guards, they tried to escort me out but I shot them with that gun you sent me in the mail! And then you know how we're on the 30th floor, and there were too many stairs to get here, so I went in the elevator, and when the elevator, guy? I dunno, but he tried to call security, and I murcked him, it was, for some reason, fun! And being a gentleman, you know the receptionist?

Well I tied her up and put her in the closet, and broke her Walkie Talkie!

Walter Nelson stands up and grabs his assistant by the collar of his robe.

Walter Nelson

Good work! How about, for your next task, you go grab the camera crew in the break room inside the AV room, cause we're going live! We're going on the air, and it's about time we show the world who's back in town... [LAUGHS]

His assistant is excited.

Mickey

Right away, Boss! Oh God!

Walter's assistant runs off to the break room, and Walter chugs some more cocktail, and the screen goes black. The scene comes back but now, the cameraman is in the room with Walter, getting ready to record.

Cameraman

So, how we doing this, ehhh... Boss?

Walter Nelson

Well, I want this entire recording to go live, right front of the grotesque little eyeballs of all the residents of Industrial Island!

The cameraman looks confused and chuckles, making Walter angry.

Walter Nelson, Mad

What's so funny?

Cameraman stops chuckling with a smile on his face.

Cameraman

I'm sorry if you're blind but the rules are, if it's past 7:00, then we can't go live, it's not an itinerary, but you're gonna have to find a different camera crew for this broadcast, bub!

The Camera crew laughs in Walter's face, and Walter is fed up.

Walter Nelson

Oh yeah? [CHUCKLES] Well you just happen to be talking with the [PULLS OUT GUN AND GETS ANGRY]
MAYOR WHO HAS A GUN ON HAND TO SHOOT ANY DUMB, STUPID, AND DENCE PEOPLE...

The camera crew stops laughing and gets scared,
and the Cameraman laughs.

Cameraman

[STILL HAPPY] Okay! Let's go live!

The camera crew are still scared, and soon they start getting ready to record, until they are finally ready.

Cameraman

We're rolling in 3...

Walter is getting ready, and his assistant is helping him, stupidly.

Cameraman

2...

Walter pushing his assistant away, and is finally ready, and looks to the camera.

Cameraman

1... and we're live!

TVs all over the island, even if they're turned off, show a special broadcast about Walter.
After the intro, we see Walter, as he pushes away his cocktail glass bottles out of the way.

Walter Nelson

Good evening, citizens of Industrial Island! You all know me for being the one and only Walter Nelson!
And you might also know me for my rugged good looks,

and being the most recently fired and rehired mayor of your pathetic little city! Heh... Yeah, so Your dear mayor, Fred?
Yeah, let's just say he... retired... if you could call it that...

The Cameraman and crew realizes what Walter has done gets scared.

Walter Nelson

And for today's announcement, we have some great news!

Pushes all glasses off the table and on to the ground, and stands up, causing the camera crew to get scared.

Walter Nelson

And soon... There won't be an Industrial Island to live in, here about, even remember at all...

Walter looks down at his papers, which are actually plans to destroy Industrial Island..

Cameraman, Scared and petrified

I-I-Is that all,
b-b-b-boss...?

Walter

Yeah, sure whatever...

Walter grabs his papers, and leaves the room, and the camera crew looks at each other.

Camera Crew, All together

AAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!!!!

END OF CHAPTER 2

Chapter 3: "The Inconvenient break in". We see Walter on the phone, talking to the head at the power plant.

Walter Nelson

SIR, I WANT THE MOST POISONOUS GAS TO BE RELEASED ON THE CITY, and then, EVERYTHING WILL ROT AWAY! [CACKLES] Anyways, bye.

Walter hangs up, and reads his plans. The scene switches to Walter with a shotgun, sneaking around a house, and breaking in.

Walter Nelson

Well would you look at this house!

The man looks behind him and gets scared.

Civilian

WALTER NELSON!?

Walter Nelson

I know every house in this neighborhood, but this is just amazing! Are you Richie Rich's Son, or...!

Civilian

Yeah, you know every house? I bet you're trying to take over all of 'em', but you ain't snatching up my house!

Walter grimaces harder, and points the shotgun right at the civilian.

Civilian

Oh, crud...

Walter cocks the gun, but the man tries to point the gun at a different direction, but is unable to, thus Walter then pulls the trigger right at the civilian, Causing him to fall onto the table. And just to make sure he's dead, Walter shoots him one more time, and walks away into the hallway, to go to the place where the money is, but before that

Walter Nelson

Might I say one final time, this is a dang nice house...

Walter then walks away
into the hallway.

Chapter 4: "Poking Fun Poker Players". We see Walter and His assistant, Mickey, playing poker together, both across the table from one another.

Mickey

Why, boss, I'm glad you could take a break from your GENIUS plans to destroy the island, and just play some poker with me, it's really nice playing with you! You know how they always say that you should always play cards with a friend? Well Here we Are! Heheh. Also I'm quite the master at Jin, so we could always play that-

Walter interrupts Mickey and tells him something to shut him up.

Walter Nelson

H-Hey, Mickey! How about I fix me and you a drink, eh?

Mickey

Ok, sure!

Walter gets up and grabs the drinks, but Mickey is still talking his ever loving head off.

Mickey

But you know, my mom said that champagne, cocktail, wine, whiskey, and all of that other crap can really mess you up and it's really bad.

Walter is grabbing the drinks but when he's about to pour the drink in the glass he drops the glass bottle onto the floor

Mickey

Oh, dear...

Walter is obviously ticked off of what Mickey had caused him to do, but tries to keep a straight face.

Walter Nelson

It's fine... It's fine...

Mickey

Oh, okay! [SMILES CREEPILY]

Walter rolls his eyes and sits back down and pours the other drink into Mickey's glass, and Walter drinks the entire glass. Mickey looks at Walter's cards and realizes that he has more than seven cards.

Mickey

Hey, boss! You're cheating! You have more than seven cards! We're playing Jin here, boss!

Mickey reaches over to take Walter's cards, but Walter slams his fist on the table

Walter Nelson

We're playing my way,
Mickey...

Mickey gets scared

Mickey

[SMILES WORRIEDLY]

S-s-sure thing, boss, you're way! Heh... And while we're at it, why don't I take your cards there

Walter gets mad and stands up

Walter Nelson

WHAT!? TAKE MY CARDS!?
HAND EM' OVER, NOW!

Mickey walks over with the cards trying to explain everything, but Walter snatches all of his cards, his included.

Mickey

Oh... heh, o-okay...

Mickey turns over to the window, and sees the army coming towards the building, including the police, the FBI, and The CIA!

Mickey

B-B-BOSS! BOSS, BOSS, BOSS, LOOOOOK!

Walter Nelson

WHAT THE [BLEEP] IS IT!

Walter looks over to the window and says silently.

Walter Nelson

I'll handle this...

Walter grabs his machine gun and goes out the window

Chapter 5: Rooftop Rumble.
It's raining, and it's getting dark. Walter is on the roof and trying to shoot at the authorities,
He shoots all of them.

Walter Nelson

EAT LEAD, [BLEEP]ERS!

Walter laughs hard and stops shooting, and gets on the roof of the 30th floor. While Walter is chuckling to himself, he hears someone also come onto the roof. Walter aims his gun at the mysterious person. He finally gets on the roof and the mysterious man is revealed to be MAYOR FORD!

Walter Nelson

No... IMPOSSIBLE, Y-YOU'RE DEAD! I SHOT YOU!

Ford

Well you should've made sure to, bub...

Walter shoots at Ford, but Ford dodges, then wincing in pain because of the gunshot wound he still has, now being covered by one singular bandaid.

Walter Nelson

Is that a bandaid you're using to stop your bleeding?

Ford

Maybe who's asking?

Walter [GRIMACING]

I Am.. Hahahahahahaaa!!!

Ford shoots his gun,
shooting the machine gun
out of Walter's grasps

Walter Nelson

WAIT... I can explain

Ford gets closer, and Walter is hyperventilating.

Walter Nelson

I Just wanted to be Mayor again, and I tried my best, but people judged me, so don't I get a second chance, just please don't shoot me...

Walter Now has tears in his eyes. Ford puts his gun down, feeling sentimental towards Walter. Until Walter grabs his gun and shoots Ford in the leg. Causing Ford to fall down.

Walter Nelson

Sucker... Hahah...

Ford

GAH! Argh...

Walter gets up and points
the gun at Ford.

Walter Nelson

This island is under new management, HAHAAHAH...

Ford closes his eyes before hearing a gunshot right in front of him. He opens his eyes, and sees Walter, frozen as a statue, until he falls off the roof, where it is revealed that George, the assistant of Ford, had shot him.

George

Need help, Sir?

Ford looks at George and smiles, until his head lays down on the ground, and Ford laughs. And the scene ends.

Chapter 6: "The announcement for The End".
The scene transitions to a special announcement from Mayor Ford Pummel

Ford

Good evening, citizens of Industrial Island, ever since the... [COUGHS INTO ARM] Incidents of Last month, I have soon recovered, and are now able to run for Mayor once again!

The Audience applauds.

Ford

And we are now at peace, knowing that WALTER NELSON IS OFFICIALLY DEAD!

The crowd applauds in relief knowing this good news.

Ford

And now, this city is officially safe, and now, newcomers are now pouring in from all over the world, from the United States to Japan, or even Canada! And now...

Camera zooms into Ford's face.

Ford

Industrial Island is safe, while I'm In town...
